The installation is part of Project Nexus, a state-funded initiative that debuted in 2025 to better understand the viability of solar-topped canals. The $ 20 million state-funded pilot has turned stretches of. The report suggests expanding 2035 targets for local clean energy to 20 GW to mitigate wholesale price volatility and improve winter reliability. Output from Estuary Power's recently-completed Escape Solar and Storage project more than doubles MGM's share of solar energy.
