

Conakry increased renewable energy penetration

Overview

Guinea-Conakry has launched a National Energy Pact, targeting universal access to electricity by 2030 and a 67% share of renewables in its energy mix. The pact, part of the World Bank and African Development Bank's joint Mission 300 initiative, is designed to connect 8.9 million additional people. Aboubacar Camara, Minister of Energy, Hydropower and Hydrocarbons of Guinea-Conakry, has been confirmed as a speaker at the MSGBC Oil, Gas & Power Conference, taking place from December 8-10, 2025, in Dakar, Senegal. The transformative power of energy access is undeniable.
