

Mali lithium energy storage power supply manufacturer

Overview

The project is 65% owned by Ganfeng Lithium, a Chinese industry leader, while the Malian state and local investors hold 30% and 5%, respectively. This ownership structure stems from the new 2023 mining code, which aims to strengthen national participation in strategic projects. The Goulamina project, located 93 miles south of Bamako, is one of the world's largest untapped hard rock lithium reserves. (Representational image) iStock China's top lithium production firm. Mali's energy landscape is undergoing a green transformation, with lithium-ion battery storage emerging as a game-changer.
