

Nacka municipality history

Overview

The present municipality was created in 1971 when the City of Nacka (itself instituted in 1949) was amalgamated with Saltsjöbaden (itself detached from "old" Nacka in 1909) and Boo. Nacka Municipality (Swedish: Nacka kommun) is a municipality in Stockholm County in east-central Sweden. The municipality is situated just east of the Swedish capital, Stockholm, and its western parts are considered a suburban part of the city of Stockholm. Its main town and administrative center is Nacka. Quick Facts Country, County.

Nacka municipality history

Nacka Municipality

The present municipality was created in 1971 when the City of Nacka (itself instituted in 1949) was amalgamated with Saltsjöbaden (itself detached from "old" Nacka in 1909) and Boo.

Nacka Municipality

Following its creation, Nacka Municipality underwent sustained demographic and spatial expansion, benefiting from its strategic position as a commuter gateway to Stockholm via bridges and ferries across the Saltsjön ...

Nacka Municipality Facts for Kids

During the Viking Age (800 - 1100 AD), it's thought that about 100 people lived here. They made their living by farming and fishing. A Danish sailing guide from the late 1200s described Nacka as an important travel area. ...

Old maps of Nacka kommun

Discover the past of Nacka kommun on historical maps
Old maps of Nacka kommun Discover the past of Nacka kommun on historical maps
Explore Maps Discover History

Nacka Municipality

The parish Nacka received its chart in 1949, making it one of the youngest cities of Sweden. After the municipal reform in 1971-74, the town Nacka is considered a part of the City of Stockholm and not an independent town.

Nacka Municipality

The municipality's name harks back to an 16th century industrial operation established by the Crown at Nacka farmstead where conditions for water mills are good.

Category:History of Nacka Municipality

Nacka Municipality by century ? (5 C) Nacka Municipality by decade ? (19 C) Nacka Municipality by year ? (46 C)

Contact Us

For catalog requests, pricing, or partnerships, please visit:
<https://www.xraydiamondsolutions.co.za>