

Qatar energy storage project partner

Overview

Qatar's state-owned oil and gas giant QatarEnergy has chosen Samsung C&T Corporation as the contractor, which will breathe life into a giant carbon capture and sequestration (CCS) project designed to serve the Persian Gulf state's existing liquefied natural gas (LNG) production. Qatar's state-owned oil and gas giant QatarEnergy has chosen Samsung C&T Corporation as the contractor, which will breathe life into a giant carbon capture and sequestration (CCS) project designed to serve the Persian Gulf state's existing liquefied natural gas (LNG) production. QatarEnergy, a global leader in hydrocarbon resource management, is increasingly recognizing the crucial role of renewable energy and energy storage in the evolving energy landscape. With National Vision 2030 as its blueprint, the country is building a future powered by clean, stable, and intelligent energy. At the core of this transformation is one critical technology: Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS). The project aims to capture and store.
